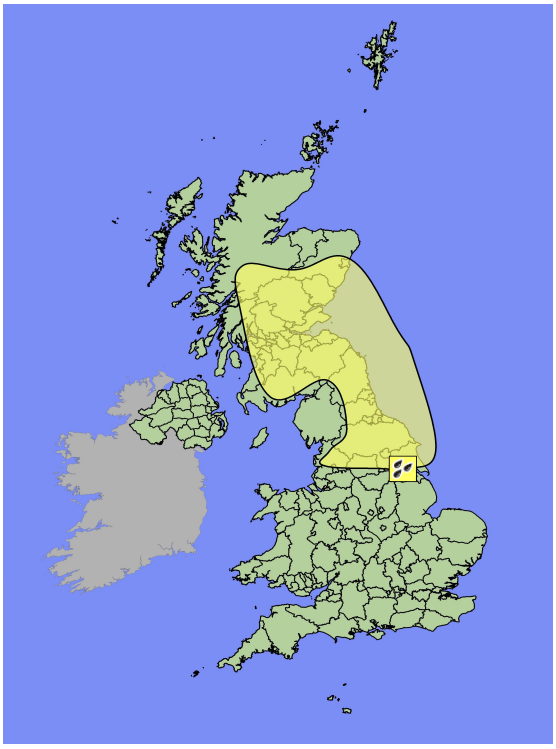
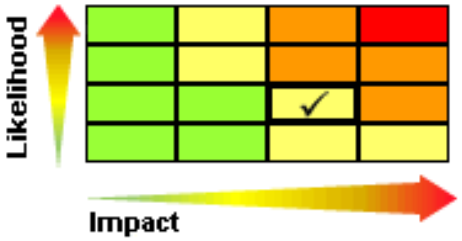
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
The low pressure area continues to withdraw eastwards today though the heavy shower risk remains over parts of Scotland and Northern England. There is the potential for some areas to catch 15-20 mm in an hour, and 30 mm plus over several hours.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 10:00 on Mon, 06th Aug 2012 until 23:00 on Mon, 06th Aug 2012

Heavy, thundery showers are expected to develop again today. The public should be aware of the risk of surface water flooding, although as always in showery conditions, some places will miss the worst.
